

Cotton-mix dress, £65, Celia Birtwell at TopShop

Celia Birtwell with her husband, the designer Ossie Clarke, in 1971

WORK IN PROGRESS: Celia's sketches for TopShop's range

THEN AND NOW CELIA BIRTWELL

Creator of magical prints and icon of the swinging Sixties, Celia Birtwell has led a wildly fashionable life. Her kaleidoscopic designs adorned husband Ossie Clarke's clothes and became as emblematic as the stars who wore them. Now, with Birtwell-inspired dresses on the catwalks at Marc by Marc Jacobs and Etro, and a collaboration with TopShop, her work is as influential as ever.

INSPIRATION: Marc by Marc Jacobs
